SYSTEM, METHOD AND PROGRAM PRODUCT FOR CREATING COMPOSITE IMAGES

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

System, method and program product for creating composite images. A layout template is generated that includes one or more composite image templates. Each composite image template includes at least one image area. An image can be associated with each image area to create the composite image. The composite image can be saved as an image file or the like.